

Chairman's Remarks

It has been a busy time for your general committee and the sub-committee formed to arrange the extra activities to celebrate our 25th anniversary, and I have been well supported by a lively committee. I think the activities have been well received by the members. At least I hope so!

This brings me on to the topic that members might like to consider - helping in the general running of KU3A. Our plan is that interested observers should attend committee meetings with us so that members of the committee can, in due course, hand on their responsibilities. I am fortunate in that regard as the Chairman's term of office is restricted to three years. If I were appointed to continue after the AGM that would mean 2017! I would like to devote the remainder of my time as Chairman to widening the group of our membership taking part in the management of KU3A.

Both these dates are now fully booked and there are more members who would like to enjoy it; hence this third date. You will hear fascinating facts about our town, quoted as 'the happiest place in London', and 'where England began'. Please make your choice of food on the application form.

After lunch we continue to Windsor where we board the boat to take us on a two-hour cruise through three locks past the Queen's vast private parklands with marvellous views of the castle, through Datchet Mead and Edward the Confessor's Old Windsor to the famous meadows of Runnymede. Hot and cold drinks are available to purchase on the boat. We disembark at Runnymede and visit the new artwork in the meadows that commemorates Magna Carta. At 5.45 pm we board our coach again and head home to Kingston. The total walking involved on this outing is approx. 800 metres.

Afternoon Tea or Lunch at Warren House

Wednesday, 13 July 2016 and Thursday, 14 July 2016

This year we are celebrating KU3A's 25th Anniversary and we want to do it in style. Warren House, a magnificent Victorian building set within beautiful landscaped gardens, is the perfect setting. The House is nowadays a hotel/conference centre and known as the finest venue in Britain. Before then, since 1865, the House was home to six families who were considered to be some of the richest and most influential men and women of their day and regularly entertained royals, aristocrats, generals, diplomats, politicians and captains of industry.

Come and pretend you are one of them and join other KU3A members in this splendid environment for either a delicious Afternoon Tea on Wednesday, 13th July or Lunch on Thursday 14th July.

Tea at Warren House on July 13th will start at 3pm with a talk, just for us, about the history and illustrious past residents of this house and an exhibition of displays about the celebrated garden. Tea will then be served for us in the Dining Room at a (subsidised) price of £18 per person and will consist of sandwiches, scones, jam and cream, plus cakes, with a choice of teas. A wonderful chance to experience the good life!

Lunch on Thursday, 14th July will be preceded with a talk by a retired Old Bailey Judge, His Honour Martin Stephens QC, who will speak on the topic of 'a life in crime'. The three-course lunch begins with an apéritif and tea/coffee afterwards. There will be a choice of starters, main courses and desserts which should suit people with special dietary requirements.

Address: Warren House, Warren Road, Kingston KT2 7HY Tel. No.: 020 8974 7115

The Castles, Historic Houses and Gardens of North Wales

19th-23rd October 2015

Twenty one intrepid U3A members set off for a holiday in North Wales in fine style – a brand new 71-seater coach with the number of seats reduced to 49. We had lots of leg room. En route to our hotel in Caernarfon we stopped at the National Memorial Arboretum near Lichfield. This 150 acre site is a woodland landscape with more than 300 memorials to the forces, organisations and countries which lost personnel during both World Wars. It was too large for us to be able to visit many of the memorials in the time available to us, so we all went round the Arboretum on the land train which had an on-board commentary describing each memorial we came to. The designs were very individual and many had impressive sculptures.

We arrived at our hotel in the early evening. The Royal Celtic Hotel is a late 18th Century mansion which has been extensively extended and now comprises 110 rooms. Our stay would be very pleasant and comfortable.

Amanda, our local guide for the next 3 days, arrived on Tuesday morning and we set off for a tour of the 13th Century Caernarfon Castle, one of Edward I's fortresses in Wales. This medieval site was the place where the investiture of Prince Charles as Prince of Wales took place in 1969. A tour of the harbour and the old walls of the town gave us a sense of Caernarfon's defensive position on the Menai Strait. Our lunch stop was in the town with the longest name in the Welsh language, Llanfairpwllgwyngyllgogerychwyrndrob wyll-llantysiliogogoch. Our afternoon visit was to Plas Newydd, an 18th Century country house with spectacular views over the Menai Strait to Snowdonia and the location of Rex Whistler's largest painting. The guide in the room took great pleasure in pointing out the changes in perspective within the painting depending on where in the room it was viewed from.

On Wednesday we embarked on the Festiniog narrow gauge railway from Porthmadog up to Blaenau Ffestiniog. This railway line originally carried wagons with the finest slate in the world from the slate mines in Snowdonia to the coast for onward transport abroad. The wagons moved downhill under gravity and were pulled back up to the mines by ponies. Unfortunately it was raining and the train carriages were steamed up, somewhat blocking our view of the landscape we were travelling through.

After this a visit to the Victorian Llechwedd Slate Caverns was the obvious next step. About half the group chose to go 500 feet down into the mine where they learned of the dark, difficult and dangerous job of extracting slate.

In the afternoon we went to the unique village of Portmeirion for lunch and leisure time to explore this unusual place, the creation of Welsh architect Clough Williams-Ellis at the beginning of the 20th Century. The buildings are a very colourful mixture of different architectural styles.

On Thursday morning we drove through Snowdonia National Park to Betws-Y-Coed. It was dry and the scenery and the autumn colours were stunning. After a brief stop in Betws-Y-Coed we went to Bodnant Garden set on a hillside overlooking Snowdonia. This superb garden has many interesting trees and italianate terraces dropping down the hillside into the river valley below. In the afternoon our last visit in North Wales was to Conwy and Conwy Castle, another of Edward I's fortresses. A considerable part of the town walls, built at the same time as the castle, still survive and, viewed from the castle, give a good impression of a medieval walled town. On our return to our hotel we said goodbye to Amanda who had been a very competent and well informed guide during our stay.

On the last day we left our hotel early for the journey back to Kingston. We stopped near Kineton in Warwickshire to visit the Compton Verney Art Gallery, housed in a John Vanbrugh/Robert Adam Grade I listed mansion. The gallery displays Neopolitan, North European and British art works and a collection of Chinese bronzes. After an introduction to the gallery (which the staff insisted we have) we had a quick lunch and a rushed tour of the exhibits before departing.

Our excellent driver all week was Jeff who managed to find a route back to Kingston avoiding a major holdup on the M25. We arrived back at about 7.30pm, tired but with very good memories of our holiday.

The Walking Group recently celebrated its 5th Birthday. The members in the photograph are four of the original eight on the first walk, who, along with one other, continue to walk with this now large group. The cake was decorated by walk organiser, Shirley Bolton.

Shared Learning Project

We are delighted to announce 2 joint activities with our local University:

- A Shared Learning Project, and
- The Kingston University Big Read.

We hope these will lead to other fruitful collaborations and invite you to participate.

1 The Shared Learning Project:

Uncovering the History of the Kingston Hill Campus. This project will be run in conjunction with Kingston University Archives and Special Collections.

As part of the centenary of Gipsy Hill, we would like to learn more about the Kingston Hill campus and the history of the buildings there as the University's Archive holds very little information on the site before the point at which Gipsy Hill took over. We have some information - including that one of the buildings was owned by Florence Nightingale's aunt and uncle, and that the Crown Prince of Egypt spent a few years there in the early 1900s! The site has a fascinating story to discover - and this is the aim of this project. There are archival records relating to the site in several archives - including Kingston Local History Centre and Surrey History Centre. This project will aim to pull together these resources to create a report on the history of the site and its buildings.

We ask members to:

- Be available during the months of June, July and August 2016.
- Come to a preliminary meeting on 25th May to meet the group
- Attend an introductory meeting on 8th June and then fortnightly meetings. The meetings will be on Wednesdays from 11.00am -1.00pm at Kingston University, Penrhyn Road. There will be a total of 6 meetings including the final presentation on 17th August.

- Be prepared to work on the project on your own or in pairs between meetings. You need to be computer literate: Microsoft Office, use the internet and e-mail.
- You need to come to all the meetings.
- Be prepared to contribute your research towards the final report at the end of the project.

There are places remaining and we welcome both 'old hands' and people who have never done this sort of project before. See the home page of our website for more details:

2 The Kingston University Big Read

The University is building on the success of last year's pioneering Big Read project, which gave every new student a copy of 'About a Boy' by Nick Hornby.

This made the students feel welcome and fostered discussions and a sense of community above their wildest expectations. They will repeat the scheme with another book this year, and wish to involve us among a select few Kingston organisations.

This year's choice is 'The Humans' by Matt Haig, and we will be supplied with copies at a discounted price in August; will be invited to related events and to hear the author.

Keep watching our U3A website for more details. Linda Foreman is particularly keen to hear from Book Groups which might be interested in including a work of modern fiction in their schedule.

We hope you enjoy these opportunities and show the University we are keen to collaborate for mutual benefit.

Kingston U3A Singers

The next concert will be at 7.30 pm on Saturday 11th June at New Malden Methodist Church, New Malden High Street. Tickets @ £7.00 will be available from Pat Young (8337 8326) or any choir member; or you may pay on the night.

We are looking to expand our numbers in all voice ranges, but especially in the Tenor and Bass sections. The group meets on Thursday mornings from 10.30am to 12.30pm in the Shiraz Mirza Community Hall in Malden Manor Park. There is no formal audition and you don't have to be able to read music. The work is varied from Classical through to Folk music and is mostly sung in 4 parts. The cost is £35.00 per quarter.

If you would like to come along and see what it's all about please contact any member of the Singers or: Helga Randall – 0208 397 8712.

Central Study Days at Menuhin Hall

Surrey Network study days are open to members of all U3As in Surrey and the surrounding area. They are held in the Menuhin Hall, Stoke d'Abernon and normally start at 9.30am with registration and finish at 4pm. The fee, including coffee tea and biscuits, is £10, though a visitor who is not a member of a U3A will be charged £12. Attendees should bring a packed lunch. Prior booking is essential and forms are available at the monthly meetings or from the Surrey Network internet site

Henry VIII & the Tudor Age - Presented by Siobhan Elizabeth Clarke, Guide Lecturer at Hampton Court Palace.

No English king is as well-known as Henry VIII. But he was also an enthusiastic patron of the arts who established the most magnificent court ever seen in England. Topics comprise Tudor dress, art, great palaces and Henry's long-awaited son, Edward VI.

There will be no Study Days for the holiday months of July and August.
